The Arizonan says that Yuma county wants a slice of Maricopa; Gila, the Tonto Basin country from Yavapai, while Flagstaff and northern Yavapai people want a new countyall at the hands of the present legislature. Such schemes are likely to result in combinations that will be inimical to the welfare of the Territory.

Last night as the east-bound passenger train was pulling into Tueson, says the Citizen, it run on to a borse on the trastle near the narrow gauge depot, killing it. The front trucks of the engine passed entirely over it and then slid along the rails the entire length of the trestle and until the train stopped. It took about fifteen minutes to get the animal from under the engine, where it had become wedged.
